

With virtual reality glasses and handheld 3D controllers learners can practice intraoperative X-ray imaging in a life-like and engaging way